Massive monopolies MUST be regulated otherwise they manipulate the markets to make enormous profits while hurting the average American. Title II coverage of broadband providers is a necessity to ensure these companies, who are monopolies, do not create even greater anti-competitive practices in service to consumers. Throughout the country, not only are these companies the only provider in many consumer markets, they are the only providers for the backbone trunks that connect regional providers, driving up costs to users of these trunks and being passed down to the consumer. These providers are not struggling, they have not stopped investing in infrastructure due to Title II and Share Holder Investor Calls (which I have been a member of) evidence this. This is not a partisan issue, but one that should concern every American consumer because no one will escape harm.
